Why should I care?

Terms of Service should be simple, clear and readable.

Unfortunately, they're not. So there's a good chance you've never read them.

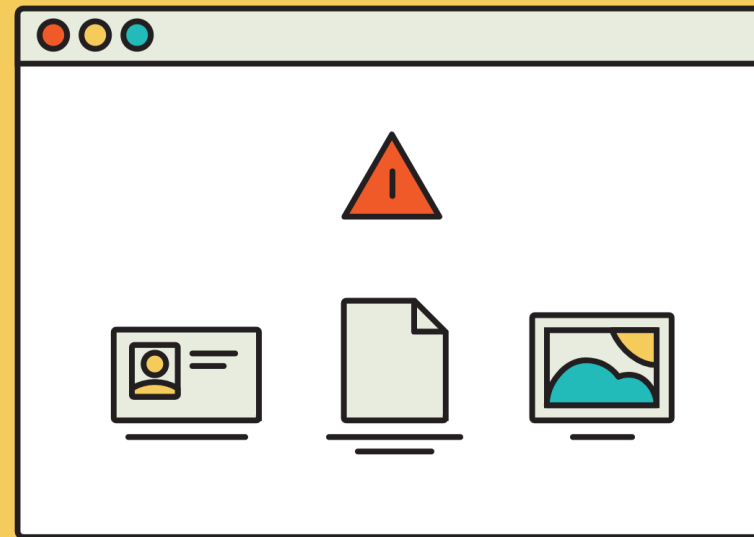

So what?

You may be allowing your personal data to be used in ways you normally wouldn't.

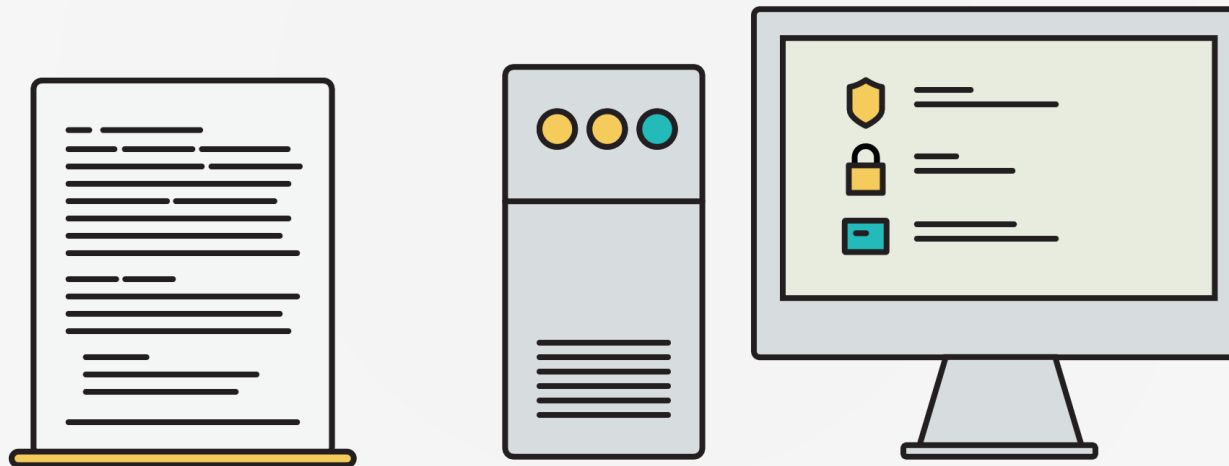

By blindly accepting existing Terms of Service & Privacy Policies you are sharing without knowledge your personal data and files, creating a true information currency that is disposed freely by companies worldwide.

How can you help me?

We read the terms and conditions of the websites you visit, so you don't have to.

PrivacyPal reads all the boring parts for you, collects relevant information and gives it back to you in a format you can actually understand in the blink of an eye.

PrivacyPal helps you understand what you're agreeing to, before you do.

How does this website use my information?

What information does this website disclose to authorities, and how?

Is my data being sold to third-parties?

Is data transferred by this website encrypted?

Does this website store my data even when it's no longer needed?

Will advertisers have access to my data?
